

Law and Religion in Ireland 1530-1970

...

A Roundtable Event Hosted by the UCD Legal History Group

Wednesday 6 June 9.30-3.30
Harty Boardroom, Sutherland School of Law

Session 1 (9.45 a.m.)

Ivar McGrath	The Penal Laws: Origin, Purpose, Enforcement and Legacy
Emma Lyons	To 'elude the design and intention' of the Penal Laws: Collusion and Discovery in eighteenth-century Ireland'
Phillip Walsh	Penal Laws and Catholic Property: The Experience of the Blakes of Ballyglunin

Session 2 (11.10 a.m.)

Kevin Costello	'Inoperative but Insulting': Residues of the Penal Laws, 1829-1920
James Kelly	The Catholic Relief Acts 1781-1793

Session 3 (12.00 p.m.)

Oliver Rafferty	The Legal and Constitutional Organization of the Catholic Church in Nineteenth-Century Ireland'.
Paul Colton	Disestablishment and the Church Act 1869

Session 4 (1.30 p.m.)

WN Osborough	Church Briefs and Charitable Relief: Reparation for Two Early Eighteenth Century Fire-Damaged Ulster Towns
Leanne Calvert	Protestant Kirk Sessions Courts

Session 5 (2.30 p.m.)

Robert Marshall	The Constitution of the Church of Ireland in Action: Ritualist Litigation in a Disestablished Church 1871-1937
Donal Coffey and Niamh Ní Leathlobhair	A Legal and Political History of the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of Ireland
Thomas Mohr	Religion in the Constitution of the Irish Free State

Email Niamh Howlin (niamh.howlin@ucd.ie) for further details.

Schedule subject to change.