

Clinical Lecture Series

2024/25

This lecture is hosted by Trinity College Dublin

Wed. 5 March 8.30-9.30am

(registration closes 3pm on 4 March)

Speaker: Fiona Kennedy,
School of Medicine in Trinity College Dublin

Title: Inclusion health: Research on exercise with people experiencing homelessness and addiction

Register at ISCP.ie/events

Fiona Kennedy is currently a full time PhD student with the School of Medicine in Trinity College Dublin. She has worked as a clinical physiotherapist for over 20 years, primarily in the area of adult disability. She completed her MSc in Neurology and Gerontology in the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland in 2020. She has a special interest in frailty and inclusion health and her PhD focuses on the effects of exercise in targeting physical functioning deficits and frailty in inclusion health populations.

Irish Society of Chartered
Physiotherapists

UCC

Coláiste na hOllscoile Corcaigh
University College Cork, Ireland

UNIVERSITY OF
LIMERICK
OLLSCOIL LUIMNIGH

Trinity
College
Dublin