

Dr Alison Hanlon

Associate Professor

#IWD2020
#EACHFOREQUAL

UCD School of Veterinary Medicine

“Provide mentoring programmes for girls and women throughout life. Embed work life-balance and flexible working as components of employment conditions. Until true gender balance is achieved in workplaces, especially at senior level, implementation of gender quotas may be necessary.”

I am an Associate Professor at the UCD School of Veterinary Medicine, specialising in animal welfare science and veterinary ethics. I am an Associate Member of the European College of Animal Welfare and Behavioural Medicine (sub-speciality Animal Welfare) and a member of three national committees: Farm Animal Welfare Advisory Council, Scientific Committee on Animal Health and Welfare and the National Committee on the Protection of Animals Used for Scientific Purposes.