

Dr Fiona McCartney

Post Doc Research Fellow Lvl 1

#IWD2020
#EACHFOREQUAL

UCD School of Veterinary Medicine

“I think we need to create an environment where people feel like they can be themselves without judgement. A place where they are supported and are given the opportunities and the mentorship needed to succeed.”

I am a post-doctoral researcher investigating the anti-inflammatory properties of extracts from Irish seaweeds. I have a BSc in Biopharmaceutical Science from Dundalk Institute of Technology and my PhD focused on the use of intestinal permeation enhancers and nanoparticles for the oral delivery of peptides such as insulin.